Adding fillable fields

Go under developer tab and click on design mode (which toggles on and off). With it on, you can see the fillable field you pasted in. With it off, it disappears and shows you how the doc looks in real life (if you leave it on, you'll think pages have spilled over or you have other formatting problems)

Paste in the following (invisible unless in design mode):

Or to access the field from the tool bar, look to the left of the words "design mode" in the developer tab and click on the "Aa"—if you hover over it, it says "rich text content control". That's the one you want
